Domestic Girlfriend 196 is the latest chapter in the series, and it focuses on the character of Vandana Verma. Vandana is a foreign exchange student from India who has been living with the Tachibana family for the past year. She is a kind and caring person, but she also has a strong sense of justice. In this chapter, we learn more about Vandana's past and her motivations. We also see her play a more active role in the story, as she tries to help Natsuo and Rui get back together.

Vandana's Past

Vandana grew up in a small village in India. Her parents were farmers, and they worked hard to provide for their family. However, Vandana's father was also a gambler, and he often lost all of the family's money. This caused a lot of stress for Vandana and her mother, and it led to her father leaving the family when she was young.

After her father left, Vandana and her mother struggled to make ends meet. They often had to go hungry, and they lived in a small, rundown house. However, Vandana never gave up hope. She studied hard, and she eventually won a scholarship to study abroad in Japan.

Vandana's Motivations

Vandana is a kind and caring person, but she also has a strong sense of justice. She believes that everyone deserves to be happy, and she is always willing to help others in need. This is why she is so determined to help Natsuo and Rui get back together. She knows that they are both good people, and she believes that they deserve to be happy together.

Vandana's Role in the Story

In Domestic Girlfriend 196, Vandana plays a more active role in the story. She helps Natsuo and Rui to communicate with each other, and she also helps them to overcome their obstacles. She is a strong and supportive friend, and she is always there for them when they need her.
